

Panel discussion on Geroscience.

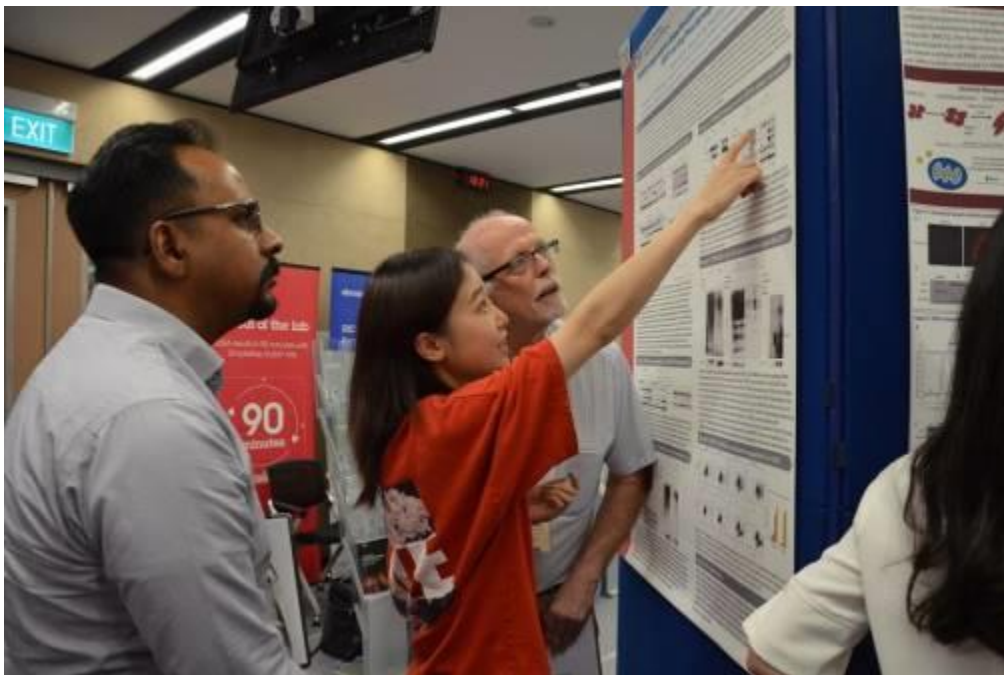

Left to Right: Patrick Casey (Duke-NUS), Felipe Sierra (NIH, USA), Barry Halliwell (BRC, A*STAR), James Kirkland (Mayo clinic, USA), Brian Kennedy (CHL, NUHS)

Prof. James Kirkland delivering the keynote lecture on the application of senolytic drugs (agents that remove senescent cells) to treat chronic diseases of old age.

International and local researchers working on the biology of ageing.

Scientific interaction at poster session.

Prof Brian Kennedy (CHL, NUHS) giving a talk on “Strategies to Promote Healthy Aging”.

Prof Felipe Sierra (National Institute on Ageing, National Institutes of Health , USA [he has since retired]) giving a talk on “Geroscience: addressing multimorbidity in the elderly”.